

Good morning,

We are contacting you to advise you of some important updates to the previously issued Product Information Sheets and Interest Rate Sheets.

Following on from the previous email sent to you on Tuesday, 16 April 2024 (viewable at the bottom of this email), we have identified some inconsistencies within selected Product Information Sheets and Interest Rate Sheets. These errors were caused by technical issues which have now been rectified.

Updated sheets

We have updated and attached the following sheets:

- Residential Rates
- SMSF Rates

Effective immediately, please use the updated sheets in place of the ones previously sent to you.

We apologise for the inconvenience which this update may cause you.

Should you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact us.
